

Table of Contents

Orientation (This upper section is designed to be read before you buy the book.)

If you are:	Please turn to Page:
A baby boomer worried about when you retire.....	8
An entrepreneur, small business or field office operator.....	12
A creative or performing artist, musician, writer or dramatist.....	15
Part of the Creative Class, a scholar, engineer, scientist or educator	17
Retired now or an elder in settled work.....	19
Parents of a young family.....	22
Or a solo parent (read both sections).....	25
A young adult, under age 25 wanting to buy a home and get a start	26
An elected official or a government policy maker.....	28
A government subdivision approver, regulator or planner.....	33
An architect, master planner or designer.....	35
A wage earner who cannot afford housing close to your work.....	38
A nearby farmer	40
An investor or developer.....	42

What is wealth? An essay to set the tone.....	iv
Note from the author.....	vi
Executive Summary: Can We Design and Build for Quality of Life?.....	1
What is a Village?	4
If You Are a... (See top section of this index – above)	8-45
Chapter 1 - Challenge and Solution.....	47
Chapter 2 - The Big Picture - Imagine.....	53
Chapter 3 - Village and Plaza Layout	58
Chapter 4 -Landscape and Plants	70
Chapter 5 - The Local Economy.....	73
Chapter 6 - Food and Slow Food	92
Chapter 7 - Local Transport Area - An essential component of the Village.....	96
Chapter 8 - Energy, Water, Effluent and Convergent Technology.....	102
Chapter 9 - Education and Culture.....	116
Chapter 10 - Governance of The Village	128
Chapter 11 - Getting Started - The Design Brief and Village Master Plan Codes.....	137
Chapter 12 - The Design Code.....	158
Chapter 13 - Building Design.....	178
Chapter 14 - Building Materials and Process	208
Chapter 15 - The Construction and Logistics of Building the Village	218
Chapter 16 - Finance and Funding Options.....	222
Chapter 17 - Role of the Village Organising Company.....	226
Chapter 18 - To Build an Indigenous Tribal Village - Special Considerations.....	228
Index and photo index.....	244

If you see yourself as one or some of the above, or even none of the above but you are in search of an authentic, supportive community, read this book – borrow it, buy it, stand here and read it. When you are done, make it known that you want to be a part, that you want to build a Village or see one built. When you and a thousand others come together with one intent, it will happen. To connect, try the forum at www.villageforum.com